Logo Guidelines

The primary full color logo should be the first choice on all marketing materials. If there is an instance where the logo needs to be on a dark background, choose the white version.

When a vertical version of the logo is needed for space constraints, the options at left is available.

NEVER DISTORT THE LOGO. Always resize smaller and never resize larger as it will cause the logo to look fuzzy. Use the icon only or typeface only version when there is not room for the entire visual logo or when the logo gets reduced to icon size. The simplified typeface logo is for when the logo may not reproduce well or in smaller circumstances.

Never let text or graphic elements overlap the logo.

Use your main colors as header colors in printed collateral and web page designs.

Make sure to use the proper file type and color mode for the appropriate application or your logo colors may become distorted.
